Una mania por la que se dice... (The main body of the document contains dense handwritten text, likely a legal or administrative record, with several lines of text in a cursive script.)

Alfonso... (Handwritten signature or name in cursive script, partially obscured by a large scribble.)

Doctor Cabreco (Handwritten signature, possibly identifying the role of the signer.)

yo vivo... (A line of text, possibly a clause or a date, with some darked-out areas.)

pa el... (A line of text at the bottom of the page, possibly a concluding clause or a reference.)

N^o 151-

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly Spanish or Italian, covering the upper left portion of the document. The text is dense and difficult to decipher due to the high contrast and bleed-through.

Handwritten signature or name in the lower right quadrant, appearing to be 'Antonio...' followed by a surname.

Faded handwritten text in the lower left section, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper.

Faded handwritten text in the lower middle section, also likely bleed-through from the reverse side.
